SPOTLIGHT ON RESIDENTS:

Lee Berger

Sandra Sherriton

Lee Berger: Lee was one of the first residents to move into Oakmonte Village. She attended school in Florida and loves tennis. She is from Morristown, New Jersey and her husband was from the Bronx. Together they have 4 kids and 7 grandkids. Lee likes to relax on the patio couch with Bev R. and her dog Mia. In addition, Lee loves reading books. If you would like more information about Lee, stop and chat with her.

Harvey's Humor Corner

Respect old people.
They graduated school without Google or Wikipedia.

Why did the school kids eat their homework? Their teacher told them it was a piece of cake.

What do computers
eat for a snack?
Microchips.

Why can't you trust an atom? They make up everything.

What's the difference between a guitar and a fish? You can tune
a guitar, but you can't tuna fish.

Health News Update:

Do you know 7 ways to keep your memory active? A Harvard Health Publishing article explained 7 ways to maintain an active memory. First, you can continuously learn. For example, pursuing a hobby or new skill like jewelry making, gardening, or a book club. Secondly, using your five senses will help you retain your memory. For instance, try and guess the ingredients in a meal at a restaurant. Thirdly, believing in yourself. For example, tell yourself positive messages. "I am great." Fourth, maximize your brain use. A good way to do this is by using a calendar or planner to keep routine things obtainable. Fifth, repeat things you know, which will reinforce your memory. For example, if you just met Julie, say, "Julie where do you work?" Repeating her name will assist you in recalling it. Sixth, space learning out. It is better to repeat things many times in a brief time. For instance, spacing out studying for a test rather than cramming. Lastly, create mnemonic devices to recall things. For example, to remember the lines on the treble clef you can say, "Every good boy does fine." Now you know 7 wonderful things to keep your brain sharp!

Sam Leff's Judicial Cases:

Having been appointed a judge in North Miami Beach night court he had many unusual cases. One was a domestic violence in which the husband beat his wife. He was sentenced to two weeks in city jail. After three days a bailiff came to say, "Sam, you should see what is going on in your domestic violence case in the jail." We went to the jail. Low and behold there was the wife in the cell with the husband all lovie dovey and holding hands. "What is going on?", I asked his wife. Wife replied, "I forgave him." Sam immediately released him to go home and dismissed the case.

Another case was about speeding. The police stopped someone for speeding. After Sam heard the case he dismissed it. The evidence testified by the police was doubtful. The police had a reputation of giving testimony that was beyond reasonable doubt. Sam rendered the case not guilty. The next day the entire police department resigned to protest the ruling. Sam called for a conference with the police department and explained the requirements of testimony for a conviction of beyond reasonable doubt. The police accepted it and presumed their duties.

Broward News Update:

The Hollywood Hard Rock's Guitar will be completed October 2019. It will have 638 hotel rooms in the guitar tower and 165 rooms in the pool tower overlooking a private cabana area. The casino will contain 3,000 new slot machines, 193 table games and 46 poker tables. In addition, it will have 30 new restaurants, lounges and bars. Lastly, it will incorporate a 6,500 seat Hard Rock Live concert venue. Sounds like a lot of fun!
